Cancer Research UK is located in the Angel Building at 407 St John Street, Islington, EC1V 4AD

Upon arrival, please report to the Angel Building reception desk at the far end of the atrium. The reception staff will contact your host or meeting organiser to collect you from the atrium.

At Cancer Research UK, we are committed to improving our customer service by making sure we understand the requirements of people visiting our premise. Please inform your host if you have any specific requirements – this is particularly important if you would require assistance in the event of an emergency evacuation.
